"She is just as spry, lively and quick as most women of fifty or sixty, and when I saw her last looking as pretty and young as most of women around. You can't tell that she is old, as she is lively and young looking; but when you talk to her of her childhood it seems as if you are hearing about the creation. She knows much and they tried to get her to go to the Centennial in Philadelphia, but she would not go, as she said she did not want to play the part of a dummy.
